A photograph of a military facility, likely a warehouse or storage area. In the foreground, a soldier wearing a tan helmet with 'DAVIS' on it and tan camouflage uniform stands looking towards the camera. He is wearing red-tinted sunglasses. Behind him, a yellow forklift is partially visible on the left. In the center, a green military vehicle, possibly a Land Rover or similar, is parked. In the background, there are metal shelving units with various items and equipment. Two other soldiers are visible in the background, one standing and one sitting. The overall setting is an industrial or military storage facility.
